

Gus Bassani Joins Imprimis Board Of Directors

December 18, 2012

SOLANA BEACH, Calif., Dec. 18, 2012 /PRNewswire/ -- Imprimis Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (IMMY: OTCQB) today announced that Gus Bassani, Pharm. D., Vice President of Consulting, R&D and Formulations with the Professional Compounding Centers of America, Inc. (PCCA), will join its board of directors.

Imprimis Pharmaceuticals is dedicated to improving patient health and quality of life by leveraging a patented topical drug delivery platform that enables highly targeted site specific treatment. Its lead drug candidate, Impracor, utilizes the company's innovative Accudel™ cream formulation to deliver ketoprofen, a non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drug (NSAID), to target underlying tissue where Impracor exerts its localized anti-inflammatory effect.

Bassani has been with PCCA since September 2002. Prior to that, he was a formulation pharmacist in the product development lab of a veterinary pharmaceutical company. He has worked in multiple pharmacy practice settings, located in Alaska, Iowa and Kansas, and has taught extemporaneous compounding principles to pharmacy students in Drake University's Pharmaceutics Laboratory course.

Compounding pharmacists work to solve problems for specific patients by devising alternative drug formulations and delivery platforms, an area where Bassani has extensive experience interacting with thousands of pharmacists around the world.

"We are very pleased to welcome Gus Bassani to the Imprimis team," said Mark L. Baum, Imprimis CEO. "He will provide invaluable assistance and insight as we bring our lead drug to market, and explore potential applications and markets for our patented drug delivery platform."

"I'm very excited to be part of the Imprimis board, and in a position to help guide drug development and future projects," Bassani said. "I believe my experience in pharmaceutical compounding, drug formulation and research and development will serve as an asset as Imprimis moves forward."

In addition to his role with PCCA, Bassani sits on the United States Pharmacopeia Council of Experts, a body that writes standards for the pharmaceutical industry. His term on the council runs through 2015.

Bassani will be the sixth member of the Imprimis board of directors. The board also includes Mark L. Baum, Robert Kammer, Jeff Abrams, Paul Finnegan and Stephen G. Austin.
